DECATUR, Ind., June 10.—One of the very prettiest weddings of June took place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Bleeke Lutheran church, in Union township, when Miss Louise Bleeke became the wife of Arthur J. Buschmer, of Van Wert county, Ohio. The groom and his best man, Emanuel Hoffman, of Fort Wayne, entered the church from the rear and met the bridal party at the altar, which was banked in bowers of green and white floral decorations, the Rev. Mr. Meke said the ceremony that made the couple one. As the bridal party entered, Miss Charlotte Reinking sang "Lohengrin" with organ accompaniment by Fred. Walter Gerke. The ushers and ribbon bearers were Paul Stricker and Norman Bakke, of Bremington, Ah. Leeding, the bridal party was Louis Buschmer and Paul Becker, then came the bride; then her sister and brother, Karin and Henry Bleeke, Jr., and last, little Elma Bleeke, as flower girl. The wedding was entirely in white except for the pink peonies carried by the bridesmaids. The bride was a vision of loveliness in pure white satin, with a train caught at her shoulder with white pearl beads. Her long veil of three yards was the full length of the train and was fastened to her hair with a silver band. She carried white roses and sweetpeas. As the party left the church, the flower girl strewed white roses in their pathway. A pretty feature of the ceremony was the music by the boys' quartet from Concordia college, Fort Wayne. One hundred and twenty guests were served a three-course wedding dinner at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Bleeke in Union township. The house was artistically decorated in out flowers in pink and white by Misses Hilda and Bertha Ast, of Fort Wayne. The couple will live on the groom's farm near Convoy, O., and will be at home there as soon as his spacious and modern house, which is now quite far advanced, is completed.

EVANS' E-Z-BAKE FLOUR

For General Baking

The reason so many housewives like E-Z-Bake Flour is because it is reliable. Milled from several kinds of wheat, and scientifically blended in just the right proportions, it is adapted to the baking of bread, pies or pastries; and is just as good for one as the other. No matter what it is used for E-Z-Bake does not fail.

An Announcement by the Telephone Company

To the People of Fort Wayne and Allen County—

The new rates for telephone service, as recently announced, are in effect, dating from May 1, 1919.

On account of a restraining order, issued by the Allen County Circuit Court, acting on the request of the Indiana Public Service Commission, and while awaiting the decision of the United States Supreme court as to whether or not Postmaster General Burleson had the right to fix telephone rates in Indiana, the applying of the new rates has been held in abeyance. But the Supreme Court has now announced its decision that the Postmaster General has the right to fix such rates and the Indiana Public Service Commission has asked the Allen County Circuit Court to remove the restraining order. Therefore, the new rates, dating from May 1, 1919, are now in force.

Patrons who have paid their June bills will find the differences in the amount of the old rate and the new rate, for two months, added to their July bills. Those who have not yet paid their June bills will find the May increase and the June increase added to their June bills.

Old and New Rates

	Old Rate.	New Rate.
Individual line business telephones	$3.00	$4.00
Two-party business telephones	$2.50	$3.00
Four-party business telephones	$2.00	$2.50
Individual residence telephones	$2.00	$2.50
Two-party residence telephones	$1.75	$2.00

There is no change in the rate on four-party telephones in the city ($1.50 per month) nor on the rural lines ($1.50 per month). The special rate on residence telephones which has been granted in the past to some subscribers, who also have business telephones, has been discontinued.

At New Haven

Rates for telephone service for the New Haven exchange have been fixed as follows: Business telephones, $2.25; residence telephones, $1.75; two-party lines, $1.25; rural telephones, $1.50.

The Home Telephone and Telegraph Company desires to state that every dollar received from this added income will be used in paying the increased wages of its employes. Already the increased wage plan has gone into effect, dating from January 1, 1919.
